-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Objections

Claims 21 and 23 are objected to because of the following informalities: There is a lack of antecedent basis for the first screw hole recited in claim 21. There is a lack of antecedent basis for the inserting slit recited in claim 23. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-3, 13, 16-17, 20, 22 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Natori et al. (KR 2000-0016763). Natori teaches projection television having a screen to provide a picture, comprising: a cover 20a provided to a front portion of the screen; and a screen rear supporting assembly provided to a rear portion of the screen to support the rear of the screen, the screen rear supporting assembly comprising:

Art Unit: 2862

a fixing bracket 30a coupled with an edge of the rear of the screen, a supporting bracket 31 provided with an inclined rib having an inclined surface inclined along a transverse direction to a rear surface of the screen and facing the rear surface of the screen to connect to a rear of the fixing bracket, and a connecting bracket 36/50 to connect the supporting bracket and the fixing bracket.

The supporting bracket further comprises: a first supporter (labeled in appended figure below) disposed approximately parallel to a surface of the screen; and a second supporter (labeled in appended figure below) bent in a transverse direction to the surface of the first supporter, and the inclined rib protruding from an inner surface of the second supporter.

Regarding claim 13, 31e can be interpreted as the protrusion and the notch in 54 as the accommodating groove. Alternatively, 53 may be the protrusion and 40 may be the groove.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 4-12, 14-15, 18-18, 21 and 23 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 2862

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
